One More Game, to Decide the Championship Between These Two, May End the City League Season. Other Games Are Scheduled, but May Not Be Played—A Good Umpire on the Job.

A no hit game, the first of the season in the city league, was pitched by Hill, of the Millers, in the game against the Sheltons at Washington park Sunday afternoon. The score of the game was 3 to 0 in the Millers' favor.

Deciding keeping any of the Sheltons from hitting the ball, Hill struck out six of their batters and did not permit a single pass nor hit a batter. The winning of the game by the Millers leaves the City League pennant "in the air," where it was foisted when the 22d Infantry team tied the Millers for first place in Saturday's game when the soldiers won their game from the Bakers. The Millers and the soldiers, as a result, are tied for the first position.

Next Sunday's game may be the final one in the City League, as it is now under consideration to call off the remaining games and play one final game at Washington park Sunday afternoon between the Millers and the 22d Infantry, who are now tied for first position. The winners of the game will be declared the champions of the City League. As it now stands, the Bakers and the Sheltons played the entire season out, would not have a chance at the pennant and the weather is becoming so cold that the crowds are remaining away from the park on Sundays and the cold is also having its effect on the players.

Millers Play "Some Ball."
Barker and Weiss, as they have been all through the season, were the batting stars on the Millers' team in Sunday's game, and their work made the runs for the Millers. In the first inning, the Millers started their scoring. Barker, who was batting first, struck out on a bunt. Weiss, however, followed with a fielder's choice which landed him in first base, and he was scored from first on Barker's long double into center. Barker then stole third in his customary way, and when Grady's grounder was booted, Barker came home for the second score of the inning.

No scoring was done in the second inning, but in the third, by the bunching of three hits, one of which was a three bagger, the Millers made three more scores, which made their total of five for the game. Weiss, in usual, was the first to get on base, on a single and was scored on a three bagger by Barker. In the previous inning Barker had made a sacrifice fly, which played its part in the scoring. Barker then came home himself for the second run of the inning, and he was scored on an error. Grady's single and went to third on a passed ball and made a run on Corning's single. The Sheltons did not score and were unable even to get near the base.

Soldiers Defeat Bakers.
It took two extra innings Sunday (City League games are only seven innings) to play the game between the Bakers and the soldiers, which resulted in the army's favor by a 2-to-1 score. With this game and the no-hit game of the Millers-Shelton contest, City League fans were given an exhibition of the pastime of the nation which has not been rivaled at Washington park this year and one that would do credit to some of these puffed-up Western leagues. Not a run was made by either team until the first of the extra innings (the eighth), and then, when the Bakers did make a run, the Soldiers came back in their half of the inning and tied up the score. In the final inning, the Soldiers made the run which gave them the game.

Hitting by both teams was weak during the nine innings, and Kay, who pitched for the Soldiers, and Armstrong, who did the Bakers' slanting, held down the players of both teams to a paltry total of seven hits. The Soldiers made four of these, with the Bakers taking the other three, but neither team was able to make more than one of its hits in one inning.

De Wiggins was again doing the arduous task for both games and, like the Sunday before, he gave entire satisfaction and has shown that Art Wood, the league president, has at last solved a serious problem by getting a perfect umpire. He will undoubtedly be retained to umpire the remaining games in the City League and may be used in the De-Apple Jubilee games.

When the Bakers started the scoring in the eighth inning, third baseman Perkins started off to first with four balls, and stole second on catcher Grady. Adkins came to his relief with a single and sent Perkins scoring across the home plate.

Garber Makes Keyed Run.
Lieut. Garber, the Soldiers' captain, was declared safe at first in the Soldiers' half of the eighth, by beating out three strikes, which the catcher let go through him. It was bad for the Bakers, too, as Garber stole second and, when Grady was put out at first, amble up to third. Grady did the pinch hit stunt and Garber scored. The score and sending the game on for an additional extra inning.

The Bakers were unable to score in the half of the game, but the Soldiers fixed their eye on the pitcher, Kemp, the first of the 22d Infantry to come to bat, in the final inning, fumbled his grounder down third base way. Adams followed him with the lucky bunt, which won the game for them without a man being down in the inning.

COMMISSION WARNS AGAINST SCALPERS

Players in the World Series Will Receive 60 Percent of the Receipts From First Four Games.
Cincinnati, O., Sept. 20.—The public is cautioned against paying higher prices for admission to the world series than those fixed by the national commission, which has hearty cooperation from the municipal authorities in each city in the suppression of the ticket scalping.

Play will begin on each ground at 2 p. m.
A rain check coupon will be attached to every ticket placed on sale. The official ball of the National League will be used in National League grounds and the official ball of the American League on the American League grounds.

Revised Rules for Series.
The revised rules of the commission for the conduct of the series are as follows:
A scheduled game, postponed for legal cause, called before it becomes a regulation game or terminating with the score tied, shall, unless the schedule explicitly provides to the contrary, be played off in grounds for which it is scheduled before the succeeding scheduled games for the other city shall be contested, and the dates assigned for subsequent games, shall, thereupon, be moved forward.

Before the commencement of the sixth game, the commission shall determine by lot, when and where the seventh game shall be played in the event that an additional game be required to decide the winner of the series.
The team that wins the world's championship is required to disband immediately thereafter and its members are forbidden to participate as individuals or as a team in exhibition games during the year in which the world's series was decided.

A certified check for $10,000, payable to the order of the chairman of the commission, shall be deposited with the secretary of the commission by each qualified club three days before the commencement of the series, as a guarantee that it will, as provided in section 10 of the revised rules, faithfully carry out all of these rules and regulations, and such others as the commission may make hereafter, and that it will, as provided in section 10 of the revised rules, faithfully carry out all of these rules and regulations, and such others as the commission may make hereafter, and that it will, as provided in section 10 of the revised rules, faithfully carry out all of these rules and regulations, and such others as the commission may make hereafter.

Fancies and Figures On the Giants and Boston Red Sox

Giants Are Far Superior to Any Club in Either League on the Bases—Wood Is the Big Noise on the Sox Pitching Staff.

NOW that the Giants have clinched their hold on the National League pennant and that the victory of the Red Sox in the American League is a foregone conclusion, it might be interesting for the fans to know some facts about these two clubs before laying down their bets. For some reason the Red Sox have been a slight favorite in the few small bets so made, but no reason for that is shown in the records of the two teams. It is likely that those who would have made the Red Sox favorite are banking on the pitching of Joe Wood, Buck O'Brien and Redmond. Remember, though, none of these men has ever played in 30 games.

To get down to plain, solid and substantial facts, the Giants are heavier hitters than the Sox crew and have shown themselves better run getters. For instance, the Giants so far this season have made 712 runs, while the Red Sox have made but 672.

Giants Steal More Bases.
On the bases the Giants are far superior to any club in either league. They have stolen 244 bases, against 209 by the Sox. The Sox have stolen 209 bases, against 244 by the Giants. The Sox have stolen 209 bases, against 244 by the Giants. The Sox have stolen 209 bases, against 244 by the Giants.

Pitching Will Count.
According to these figures the Giants have a naturally better pitching staff than the Sox. The Sox have a naturally better pitching staff than the Giants. The Sox have a naturally better pitching staff than the Giants. The Sox have a naturally better pitching staff than the Giants.

Wood Is Big Noise.
The work of Marquard, Bedient, Tressau and O'Brien in a world's series is hard to figure. Marquard has been under fire and has more experience than the others, but he was not successful against the Athletics. O'Brien and Tressau are both spitball pitchers and all three, but McGraw, with a championship season just starting, had not the time to work off the rough edges of his pitching.

Sox Shine at Fielding.
The giant pitchers as a whole are better than the Sox. The Sox are better than the Giants. The Sox are better than the Giants. The Sox are better than the Giants. The Sox are better than the Giants.

Mathewson Will Use "Spitter" Against the Boston Red Sox

Batters Who Always Face "Big Six" With Confidence, Knowing He Has Perfect Control of the Ball, Will Be Kept Guessing in the World Series With the Slippery Elm Pellet.

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Mathewson will use "spitter" against Red Sox.

"Big Jeff" Tressau and poor "Bugs" Raymond are the only spitball pitchers of note the Giants have ever had. This is mostly due to the fact that manager McGraw has always tabooed the use of the saliva shoot by one of his old pitchers and they have conscientiously obeyed orders.

When Raymond first became a member of the Giants by reason of his playing in the National League, McGraw did not want to injure his catcher's problematic usefulness and value to the club and team, allowed the new pitcher, who was a real wonder when right, to continue with his moist slings.

Bugs, too, had the most natural delivery, consequently the easiest of any pitcher who ever went in the box. McGraw said this today.

There was not a spitball pitcher when McGraw first secured him for the Giants from the Shreveport, La., club. He was just a big, strong fellow with terrific speed and the build of an athlete with no end of stamina. He had everything to learn about baseball, and would possibly have gone along an undisciplined savage unless his fortunes had been thrown with such an astute manager as McGraw, and wise, perceptive coach like Wilbert Robinson.

The big bear strangled was still untamed when he left the Giants' training camp in Marlin, Texas, in the spring of 1911. His speed and stamina were all there, but McGraw, with a championship season just starting, had not the time to work off the rough edges of his pitching.

Jeff then bethought himself of the spitter, so that he could get a break on the ball. He had practiced for this new delivery from the start, and finished the season of 1911 with a reputation second to no pitcher in the league.

Athletic Breach Between Texas College Teams Prevents Football
Texas University and A. & M. College Will Not Have Any Games This Year, Not Even the Thanksgiving Game, Usually the Deciding Contest.
BY HORACE H. SHELTON.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Sept. 20.—All efforts to heal the bitter breach between the university of Texas and the Agricultural and Mechanical college in Austin, which has prevented football games between the two teams, have failed and there will be no baseball, football or any field contest between the two leading state institutions this year.

The fact that the annual Thanksgiving day game, which decided the state championship, will not be played this year, has taken much interest out of the game. In the past, all victories of either institution were only welcomed as leading to a forecast of the possibility of a championship game. The Agricultural and Mechanical college has played this game for more than 10 years, sometimes at Austin, sometimes at Dallas, sometimes at San Antonio, and sometimes at Houston. It required special trains to handle the rosters who went to cheer the favorite team.

The severance of relations came last year after the university of Texas had won the game. The Agricultural and Mechanical college charged that the university charged or that all athletic relations between the two institutions would be terminated. The A. & M. refused to concede this and reemployed Moran. This resulted in the two athletic councils any contest of any kind.

Recently the alumni of both universities have been trying to get the two institutions to play the annual championship game might be played, but the efforts will be hopeless, as there is much prejudice among the members of the athletic councils of both institutions.

Texas University's Games.
Despite the lack of this game the university of Texas will have a very interesting schedule and will meet teams which have most excellent records. The members of the team will be Oklahoma university, Kansas university, Mississippi university and Arkansas university. The results of these games will probably decide the champion of the south. These games will be as follows:
Saturday, Oct. 25—Texas Christian university at Austin.
Saturday, Oct. 26—Haskell Indians at Austin.
Saturday, Oct. 26—Haskell Indians at Austin.

Team Is in Training.
The university of Texas team is now in training at San Saba, a mountain town in the northwest of Austin. A large number of the squad has reported and light practice is on. The camp is in charge of coaches Ditch and Rix and manager Pearson. Coach David Allerdice will not be able to join the training squad for a time. He has been ill at his home in Indiana and is not in shape yet to direct the activities of the students.

The university fans have been greatly cheered by the information that Kirkpatrick, the crack fullback, is expected to be in the squad on its return from the training camp. Although Ditch and Rix are not in the squad, Kirkpatrick to accompany the team to training quarters he has been keeping himself in good condition. If he does as well as he did last year, it is considered almost certain he will be picked for one of the all-southern eleven this year.

The further announcement that Charles H. Bosler, the crack athlete of Temple, Texas, would be in the university this fall, has sent Texas stock up another notch. Bosler, who is the one of the most around athletes in the state and his work at halfback has won for him an inviolable reputation. He is a playing football he is also a baseball, basketball and track man of great ability.

Twelve of the T men are now in camp at San Saba. These are: Capt. Porter, Jordan, Barrett, H. Leonard, Sellers, Brown, Nix, Murray and Slaughter. The other men are: Peeler, Dealey, Friest, Horne, Knauer, Scarborough, Malone, Crane, Malasky, Steiler, Brown, Littlefield, Davidson, Harrington, Hunsberr, Wimmer and Loftus.

The Agricultural and Mechanical college has a new coach, a graduate of the University of Texas, who is a former player and a former coach. He is given considerable hard work training is of such a pleasant nature that it partakes of an outing. There is a lot of fun in the training. In addition to the regular practice, the men are kept on diet but that does not matter. The training is a good time. Coach Moran, who has been at the head of the college athletics for many years, has a positive charge of the team. He has made a good job of the team. He has made a good job of the team. He has made a good job of the team.

He thinks that he will be able this year to develop a very strong team, despite the fact that some of his men have not been able to get back.

A. & M. Slow to Train.
There has not been a sufficient number of men to make up the team to make much of a prediction of the outcome of the week and matters will begin to hum.

The southwestern university at Georgetown is also getting in mighty fine shape. John H. McGinnis will have charge of the squad. He is a university of Missouri man. Associated with him will be James C. Snipes, who made a fine record at the Texas university. He is a football player and is also skilled in other lines of athletics. With these two men to train the team, the southwestern expects this season to put into the field a strong team.

McClary has been elected captain of the team. He has been on the football team at the university has ever developed. He is a good leader, a heady player and a good runner. He has won many a field goal.

DISBROW BREAKS AUTO RECORD.
Detroit, Mich., Sept. 20.—Louis Disbrow, driving a 200 horse power Simplex car at the state fair grounds, established a new world record over a dirt track for 30, 40 and 50 miles, covering the distances in 27:21, 35:25 and 45:32 respectively. His previous records were made at Syracuse last year by Ralph de Palma, driving the same car. De Palma's time for the 50 miles was 47:21:55.

HAMMER THROW RECORD BROKEN.
New York, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Matt McGrath, world's champion hammer thrower, added a new world record to his string of titles at Catic park. He threw the 16 pound hammer with unlimited run and follow, 191 feet, five inches. The former record was 189 feet, one inch, by J. J. Finnegan on the same grounds three years ago.

Favorite Food For Fanciful Fans

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 20.—As fans as figures go on the Giants and Red Sox, there is little to choose from. While Boston has scored the most hits, the Giants have more runs, and the Sox have more home runs.

On the fielding of the Red Sox have the edge, as the Giants' defensive work has been wobbly. The Giants are also the better team in the batting line, as accounted for by the fact that National League parks in the main have shorter fences than American league parks.

Benny Chavez, the crack little bantamweight of Trinidad, Colo., has been matched with Tommy Ryan, of San Francisco, at Albuquerque during fall week.

The appeal of Leach Cross, to have his pension cell down in the New York state athletic commission, which has the supervision over boxing bouts, has been refused. Cross was disqualified recently in a fight with Hugh Duffy, in New York, and was suspended for six months. He presented a numerous signed petition to support his request.

Signal practice and defensive tactics are being used to develop a squad of forwards from inexperienced material by the University of Illinois. A good part of the time is devoted to attempts to whip a line into shape.

Fourteen members of the string of the University of Minnesota football squad have been declared eligible by the faculty committee.

Jimmy Clabby and Leo Houck, mid-dleweights, have been matched to box 12 rounds at Boston, on October 1.

Efforts are being made to match Jeff Clarke, the "fighting ghost" of Joplin, Mo., and Jack "Tiger" Sullivan, a claimant of the middleweight title, before the American Athletic club at Buffalo, October 14.

Map Davis, the crack center rush of the University of Illinois, who a few days ago was declared ineligible because he had participated for three minutes in a game in 1913, has joined the coaching staff. It is the opinion of the other trainers that Davis will be of much service to the team.
